Current employment and relevant additional jobs:

James M. Turner QC has been in continuous practice in the Barristers' Chambers now known as Quadrant Chambers since 1992. Consistently with Quadrant's reputation as a leading Chambers in the maritime field, he has acted as counsel in many shipbuilding, charterparty, carriage of goods, collision, salvage, wreck removal, sale contract, trade finance, offshore construction and energy disputes, in both Court (in London, Gibraltar and Hong Kong) and arbitration (seated in London, Hong Kong, Singapore and Rotterdam). His extensive experience of ad hoc, LMAA, Lloyd's Salvage, HKCIA, LCIA and ICC arbitrations, often on the instruction of non-English law firms, has been built up in hundreds of references over the last three decades.

His experience as arbitrator stretches back 20 years and includes ad hoc, LMAA, ICC and LCIA appointments.

He studied German law at postgraduate level and speaks, reads and writes German and Dutch fluently.
